NEWS AND GOSSIP.

Some idea may be formed of the enornous sums of money which are sunk in the purchase of pictures by the wealthier classes in England, from the fact that the collection of the late Lord Northwick has produced no less than £95,725. The sale, which extended over eighteen days, terminated on Wednes-day, and was attended by dealers from all parts of the world. Some of the prices must appear fabulous to the uninitiated. The owner of this collection spent a life in bringing it together, and now it will he distrib-uted far and wide.

A workman at the spoke factory in the Phoenix Works, yesterday, while cutting a piece of oak, taken from the heart of an oak tree which grow in the wilds of Caroline County, Maryland, found embedded in it a penny of 1749. On one side is the head of the King, and the words "Georgius II Rex," and on the reverse "Brittania, 1749." The penny is battered on the edge, and evidently had been driven into the tree with a stone at the time the bark was soft. Bullets and other relies, which had been shot into trees during the Revolutionary War, are frequently found em-bedded in the wood which is brought to our manufacturers .- Newark Daily.

A little tool has been invented for threading a necale. It is made with two blades, which holds the needle with its eye opposite a little funnel-shaped opening, into opposite a little funnel-shaped opening, into which it is perfectly easy for a person of weak sight to pass the thread, and the thread inevitably passes through the eye. When this is done, the ends of the little implement are pressed by the thumb and finger, like a seissors, and the needle falls out threaded.

gar Mr. Russel Smith will soon c-1; duce in London the "Poor Man's Sible," very ancient copy of the Scriptives printed from wooden blocks before the invention of metal types. Fac-similes will be given of the engravings which illustrate the original work—forty in number, and of course rather singular in design and execution. Soveral copies are known to exist in Europe, and the present reprint will be copied from the volume in the British Museum.

The attempt to set aside the verdict against Mr. Henry Shaw, of St. Louis, who was desired to pay one hundred thousand dellar, to Miss Effic Caratang for leading her to the threshold of marriage and then leaving her, it is thought will scarcely be successful. The evidence to destroy her character appears to be of too weak a kind to have any influence, even to diminish the amount of damages, and the settlement of the matter without any further inquisition is looked upon as almost certain.

The Newark (N. J.) Mercury says that Mr. Fisher, of Patterson, has constructed a steam carriage, which was tried on the com-mon road to Acquackaneck, a few days ago, when it went on the level fifteen miles an hour with twelve passengers. One mile was run in three minutes.

Letters from Zante, Ionian Islands, of the 10th of August, 1859, state that the currant crop this year is in a very prosperous con-dition. The blight, which for five or six sea-sons past has caused the destruction of the vines, has entirely disappeared. Zante would perhaps make twelve million pounds of very excellent quality; Cephalonia thirteen million and Morea fifty million.

The wag of the New Hampshire Tele groph suggests that "a good way to get rid of the old 'red cents' will be, when the postmas-ters put up their contribution boxes for the Washington Monument, for every man, when he goes to the postoffice, to deposit all that he has 'about his old clothes.'"

Tt is stated as an evidence of the mense size of the new ship Great Eastern that persons occupying her forward berths are to be of the destroyer of his peace, and with this charged double price, on account of the advantages they will have of arriving in port ahead of their fellow passengers.

The most valuable discovery of diamends has recently been made at the foot of the Ural Mountains, Russia. One specimen brought the lucky owner £60,000. There is every reason to believe that a mine of inexhaustible wealth has been discovered.

Mr. Kendall's experiment of sheep and horse raising, near New Braunfels, in Texas, has been more than successful, as he himself writes under date of 20th August. He weaned one thousand five hundred lambs in one day, Colt's armory, which will probably be in market next winter. It is made for five charges on the revolver principle, and is loaded and fired with great facility. It is of convenient size and weight.

The musk-rats near Black Rock, in New York, two or three years ago cut through the banks of the State canal, producing a flood which swept away a neighboring saw-mill and its stock of logs. The owner brought a claim against the State for not keeping its nuck-rate in better order, and after much perseverence he has just got it allowed. Damages awarded-$3,500.

No Some time since Merriam announced that he had obtained a piece of the aurora borealis and had given to it the name "alkery of the skies." This week, we learn, he has obtained a pint of lasteal fluid from the galaxy, which he denominates the "milkery of the skies."

The Irish papers of the latest date says the potato crop of 1859 promises to turn out the finest grown in Ireland since the good old times, when the market value of that article of food ruled from twenty-four to thirtysix cents the cwt.

The Prussians are fitting out an expedition to Japan. It is to be composed of three ships of war, and is to sail in October. The expedition is to partake of a commercial, scintific and exploring character.

Mr. Reason Zarley, one of the arst settlers of Illinois, died August 30, at Joliet. He served in the war of 1812, and was one of the few who escaped the massacre at Brownston, where one hundred and thirty Americans conended against eight hundred Indians and four hundred British soldiers.

Heber C. Kimbal Getting Violent, The Valley Ton, August 10, publishes a report of Heber C. Vimball's last harangue before the Saints. That worthy apostle expressed himself somewhat strongly, as follows: Sendon your armies; they can do no harm. God will look after the welfare of his people and nield them from all injury. Let your armies do their best—their "purtiest"—they can't effect anything.

I respect officials who will perform their of-I respect officials who will perform their official duties as they should, and leave the Mormos people alone; but how can I respect my enemies? How can I respect a judge who does his best to injure innocent people? I know what they want; they want to n to Brigham Young, and then they want me and others.

to; but God won't let them nab him, and they can't nab me. [Laughter. I fear them about as much as a pis-ant; not quite so much, either, for a pis-ant will bite my leg once in a while. I am the son of a revolutionary sire, who struggled for the liberty of his country, and I am going to have religious freedom. I have algoing to have religious freedom. I have al-ways observed the laws and mean to be pro-tected by them in my religious belief the same as the people of New England are. As they treat us they will be treated. The United States will see something worse than we ever saw, before fifteen years—see it from the head of the government down. Famine upon famine, mob after mob, civil discord from one end of the country to the other, terrible whirlyings. the country to the other, terrible whirlwines, and a swift destruction will be their certain

This country has done some big sighting, but it can't beat Mormonism. There are four thousand elders in foreign lands preach-ing Mormonism—nearly all foreigners. There are forty, or fifty, or sixty organized quorums of Seventies. Suppose they kill all the members of this church but an elder. From that small seed our principles would again be given to the world, and our cause would prosper like the Canada thistle. When they persecute us, it is like breaking a mustard-stalk—the stroke only causes an increase, by more thoroughly scattering the seed.

Epeaking of thistles reminds me of a bright idea of Greeley's. He thought it would be a wise notion to sow Canada thistles all along the plains, between here and the States, to lead stock upon. Why, that would kill all the cattle with the bloody murrain, and prick us to death. So much for Greeley's judgment. What a fruifful imagination he must have! He is the greatest lar on the face of the carth. Why, bloss your souls, he is the father of all liars. He will go to hell, and be the father of liars there. Amen. ! Amen throughout the congregation.]

LILINAL VOTING IN OLD TIMES .- The following is an extract from the laws of Massachusets for 1643, showing how voting was managed in the olden time:

It is ordered by this court and the authority thereof, that for the yearly choosing of assistants, the freemen shall use Indian corn and benns, the Indian corn to manifest election, the beans contrary; and if any freeman shall put in more than one Indian corn or bean, for the choice or refusal of any public officer, he shall forfeit for every such offense ten pounds.

NEGUO TRAGEDY IN MISSISSIPPI.-We learn from a reliable source that on Saturday night last a negro man belonging to Mrs. Mayfiels, of Horn Lake, Do Soto County, Mississipoi, killed his wife under the following circumstances: As customary, he proceeded on the night above named to visit his wife, who lived on the neighboring plantation of Dr. Asiae. When he arrived at her cabin he exered it quietly, and discovered his wife aslees, locked and jealousy, he determined to take the life purpose in view, went out and precured an ax, and attacked, as he thought, his wife's paramour, but owing to the excitement under which he was laboring and the darkness which pervaded the room, the blow which he struck with the ax, instead of kaling the man, severed the head from the body of his wife. The blow awakened the men sleeping with her, who sprang from the bed and made his escape. The outraged husband repaired at once to Hernando and related, substantially, the above story, and said that he wished to himself in custody of the Sheriff. He was taken in charge and committed to jail. -- Meas-

THE OLD FRANKLIN PRESS .- The old press at which Franklin worked in Boston on the New England Courant, in 1720, has been pre-New England Courant, in 1720, has been pre-served for more than a century in the print-ing office of the Newport Mercury. The Mercury was established by James Franklin, brother of the philosopher, who then owned and used the press. It has recently been sold, and is now the property of John B. Murray, Esq., of the firm of John B. Murray, & Co. benkers, New York city. Mr. Mur-& Co., bankers, New York city. Mr. Murray is already the owner of one press at which Benjamin Franklin worked in Watte's printing-house, near Lincoln's Inv Fields, London, in 1725-3. This old press Mr. Mur-ray procured in London in 1841, and deposited or safe keeping in the United States Patentffice at Washington in 1842, where it still remains. The only two presses identified with the name of Benjamin Franklin are now under one ownership, and will be kept to-gether during the lifetime of the owner, who will doubtless evince hereafter his apprecia-tion of their public value by constituting them the permanent property of the nation. Boston Journal.

Consequence of Leaving Young Wives .-A St. Louis paper relates the troubles of a California gold-seeker who left New York for San Francisco, thence proceeded to the mines, worked hard for four years, remitting to his wife in the Empire city $1,000 per an-num all the time, and finally returned home anxious to meet the partner of his life, and with her share a bandsome fortune he had accumulated. He found, however, that dur-ing his absence she had married a gay youth, was the mother of three children, and that all were living in St. Louis. He want to that city and had an interview with her, with what result is not stated; but the St. Louis writer thinks the incident is another proof of the folly of leaving a handsome young wife in the great city of New York to the mercy of fast young men, fierce moustaches, patent-leather boots, choker collars and gold chains.

A polished surface of metal has often been used in place of a hone or strop for giv-ing a fine, smooth edge to cuttlery; but owing to its rigidity it could only come in contact with the entire level surface of the blade, or with the entire level surface of the sharp of edge, of the instrument to be sharpened, rendering it less efficient for general use then the flexible leather strop. Milo A. Holcomb, of Connecticut, has patented an "Improved Metallic Razor Strop," in which he combines the fine, smooth qualities of polished steal with the flexible adaptation of its surface to any desired and with the edge of the blade. any desired angle with the edge of the blade.

ASSASSINATED BY MORMONS .- Mr. Frank McNeil, having been unjustly imprisoned in 1857, at Great Salt Lake City, while endeav-oring to reach California, lately instituted a suit for damages against Brigham Young and other Mormons. During the progress of his suit several attempts were made to kill him, of which one proved successful. Considerable excitement was caused by this not among the Gentile portion of the citizens.

ARMY INTELLIGENCE, -A general Court-mar- LATEST BY TELEGRAPH ial mot at Fort Leavenworth on the 13th inst., for the trial of sundry persons under arrest. The Court consists of Colonel Brooks, Second Artillery; Major Wessils, Second In-fantry; Captain Van Vliet, Quarter-master's Department; Major Martin, Quarter-master's Department; Captain Barney, Second Artillery; Lieutenant Symmes, Ordnance Department. Lieutenant Haines, Judge Advocate. The Court will be in session several days, clonel Brooks, Second Artillery; Major Wessils, Second Infantry, and Major Martin, Assistant Quarter-master, arrived at the fort on the 8th inst. Major Donaldson, of the Quarter-master's Department, and Major Brice, of the Pay Department, had also arrived: the former goes to New Mexico, and the latter is assigned to duty as Paymaster at Fort Leavenworth, relieving Major Long-street, who proceeds to New Mexico with Major Donaldson. We learn from the Sionx City Eagle that the Brule Sioux are about to declare war and commence hostilities against the settlements near the Running Water. A man named Dobson had been shot and mortally wounded by them, and much excitement prevailed among the settlers in consequence. They had organized for protection, and if attacked, will give the savages a warm reception.

The Kansas City Journal of the 15th says:

"We learn that Mr. Nelson, agent for the Shawness, will pay these Indians this week, Thursday, it is supposed $100,000, this being their fifth annuity since their last treaty. The money, as usual, will circulate freely upon the border, and very freely in Kansus City and Westport."

INTERESTING MARRIAGE CERRNON V. A DIRECTOR riage ceremony of peculiar and interesting character was performed in this county on Friday last. The parties were Major Alex-ander Culbertson and Natewists, daughter of the chief of the Blackfoot Indians. Major Culbertson is the well-known Indian trader, and was married to his present wife according to the Indian ceremony some stateen or seventeen years ago, but having lately revered his connection with the American Fur Company, and cettled down to an agricul-tural life near this city, he was anxious that the ceremony might be performed according to civilized rites. The parties have three very interesting children, the eldest of whom

Is about friteen years of age.

The marriage was performed after the ceremony of the Catholic church, by Father Scanlan, of St. Joseph, Mo. A very large number of invited guests were present on the occa-sion—the marriage having taken place at the Major's residence. Among them was Captain lames Kipp, a veterae of eighty years, one of the first members of the American Far pany, and an associate of Major Calbertson since the latter's connection with the fur trade. Like the Major, Captain Kipp has lately severed his connection with the company, and has settled down to spend the remainder of his days at Parksville, Mo. Father Scanlan is an old and intimate friend of the Major's, and one who had interested himself in the Catholic mission established by his church among the Blackfoot pation.

Mrs. Culbertson is a lady of fine native tal-ent. She is said to have rendered great service to Governor Stevens and Major Camming (now governor of Utah) at the time they vis-ited the Blackfoot country, and made the treaty of the Judith between this government and the nation to which she belonged,-Peoria Transcript, Sept. 12th.

mar Last work a lady traveling from Albony to Buffalo by railroad lost a purse con-taining fifty dollars and her baggage checks. Mr. Spurgeon has got himself into sad disgrace with the London press. At the cere-mony of laying the foundation stone of his tabernacio, it seems his doacons refused admittance to every representative of the press, except the gentleman sent by the Times. found that this was deliberately done, Mr. Spurgeon having been much offended by recent criticles and paragraphs concerning himself. A clever scene was enacted at the ceremony. A gentleman went up to the stone and put down notes for £3,000. "There," he said, "if any party or parties will subscribe as much, I will happen that all these people had so much cash about them?

SOUTH CAROLINA FORESTS DYING,-The Laurensville (S. C.) Herald furnishes the following curious item:

We have noticed a considerable amount of dead and dying thuber on the reads in the lower portion of the district, and heard accounts of its extension to a considerable ex-tent in that direction. The dying is not confined to any particular kind or class of trees, but small bushes, as well as large trees, show their dead, yellow and withered leaves, which give the woods rather a sud calico appearance. Whether or not this is to be attributed to the late severe drouth, we do not the late severe drouth, we do not know, but it is ascribed generally to this cause.

THE GREAT MILITARY ENGAMPHENT IN MASsacutements.—The three-days' encampment of the State Militia of Massachusetts broke up on Friday. Among the most important features of the proceedings was a review of the entire force by the Governor and the Legislature, attended by General Wool and other distinguished guests. The column occupied one hour in passing. The troops subsequently formed in hollow square, when the Governor introduced General Wool, who was received with nine cheers and a salute of artillery. Brief speeches were made by Governor Banks, Wool and Mr. Phelps, President of the Senate.

Good Hemon .- Good humor is the clear blue sky of the soul, on which every star of talent will shine more clearly, and the sun of genius encounter no clouds in its passage. It is the most exquisite beauty of a fine face; a redcoming grace in a homely one. It is like the refreshing green in the landscape, harmonizing with every color, mellowing the glories of the bright and softening the hue of the dark side of the picture; or like a flute in a full concert of instruments, a sound, not at first discovered by the ear, yet filling up the breaks in the "concord of sweet sounds," with its deep, rich melody.

3. The Mariposa (Cal.) Star thus describes the personal appearance of Horace Greeley : He does not look like a vegetarian - wears specs—declines to drink—never smokes—sel-dom swears—and, among other peculiarities, seems to be in a devil of a burry to get back to New York!

The riot at the tunnel on the Eric Road was in full force this afternoon. No cars had been permitted to pass, and at last accounts the rioters were hard at work blockading the road more effectually. The through mails have been sent back to this city, to be dispatched over the Hudson River Railroad and New York Central. At noon to-day two regiments of New Jersey militia were ordered to the scene of the riot. Postmaster Fowler has obtained a requisition from the Government for the dispatching of troops from this city. The rioters, it is said, have procured a cannon, which they have loaded with spikes, for use in case they are attacked. One of the ringleaders was ar-

From Washington.

WASHINGTON, September 17.
The present delicate and complicated state of affairs at San Juan, growing out of General Harney's movements, requires great care and caution on the part of our Government to pra-vent a collision. The President, in conferring with General Scott in regard to the matter, suggested the propriety of sending some one those who was less impetuous and more prudent than Harney.

General Scott at once informed the President that he would go, and as soon as his instructions were prepared in would be ready to start.

The instructions are partly prepared, and considered in Cabinet Council yesterday. They will probably be completed to morrow, and forwarded immediately to New York.
